

New England Conservatory

2011-2012

Application for Financial Aid and Scholarships for Undergraduate and Graduate Students

FINANCIAL AID OFFICE

The Financial Aid Office at New England Conservatory is committed to assisting students with meeting the costs of an NEC education. The Financial Aid Office is responsible for the management and awarding of merit and need-based institutional funds, as well as federal and state need-based grants, loans, and work programs.

ESTIMATED COSTS

Tuition and fees are the same for undergraduate and graduate students regardless of state of residency or citizenship. NEC estimates other student expenses based on annual average costs. These expenses include books, personal expenses, transportation, insurance, and room/board. Below are estimated costs for a full-time student for the previous academic year (2009-10). Applicants should expect all costs to increase for the upcoming academic year.

Tuition	$34,500	Graduate Diploma Tuition for 10-11	$31,500
Fees	$450
Room and Board	$12,100
Books & Supplies	$700
Personal/Miscellaneous	$2,200
Local Transportation	$420
Health Center/Insurance	$2,067
Total Estimated Costs	$52,437

APPLYING FOR FINANCIAL AID

Eligibility for NEC's institutional scholarship programs is primarily based on performance level as determined by NEC faculty after auditions or a portfolio review. There is also a need component that affects the amount of the overall award. Federal and state eligibility is largely based on financial need. Unfortunately, due to limited funding available, NEC financial aid packages do not always meet a student's full calculated need.

COMPLETING THE NEC FINANCIAL AID APPLICATION

Please pay careful attention to the directions provided on the application. Incomplete applications delay the awarding process. It is very important that you print clearly and legibly on this form.

APPLICATION REQUIREMENTS

All* new and returning students (domestic and international) must file an NEC Application for Financial Aid for consideration for NEC funds. Failure to file the NEC Application for Financial Aid by the priority deadline may affect the amount of your awards. U.S. citizens and permanent residents must also file the Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA) in order to be considered for financial assistance.

*The Unified Application for Conservatory Admission includes a version of the NEC Application for Financial Aid which satisfies this requirement. Incoming (new) students who have completed the Financial Aid section of the Unified Application do not need to submit a separate (paper) NEC Application for Financial Aid.

VERIFICATION

One-third of all FAFSA filers will be selected for a review process called verification. If you are selected, the Financial Aid Office will request documentation from you that includes: signed copies of 2010 federal income tax returns for both the student and parent (if applicable); copies of all 2010 W2 information for both the student and parent (if applicable); the completion of a verification work-sheet. New students are not required to complete the verification process before packaging, but your financial aid offer will be tentative pending verification completion. Returning students are required to submit such forms, upon the Financial Aid Office's request, prior to the awarding of financial assistance. Returning students will not be packaged until verification is completed. No funds will be disbursed to the account of a student who has been selected for but has not completed verification.

RENEWAL OF FINANCIAL AID AWARDS

NEC's policy is to renew aid packages from year to year provided the student meets some basic eligibility requirements. Returning students must apply for financial aid each year to be considered for continued funding. No renewal of financial aid is automatic. Students who fail to apply on time jeopardize their aid renewal and/or level of institutional support. In order to be considered for annual renewal of aid, a student must continue to demonstrate a similar level of financial need, be making satisfactory academic progress in his/her degree program and be registered as a full-time student.

OTHER SOURCES OF ASSISTANCE

The Financial Aid Office requires all students who receive private scholarship or loan funds to report such information to a member of the Financial Aid staff immediately. It is crucial that the Financial Aid Office be aware of these funds in order to reconcile the student's account with the Business Office. It is extremely rare that a student's existing scholarship and/or grant assistance is impacted by the receipt of outside funds. The Financial Aid Office highly recommends students seek out private scholarship opportunities. You may visit our Outside/Private Scholarships Web page at <http://necmusic.edu/scholarships> to assist you in your search for funding.
